

PRIVACY POLICY

This Privacy Policy describes the policies and procedures followed by ExodusPoint Capital Management, LP or any of its affiliates (together, "ExodusPoint", "we", "our" or "us") regarding the collection, use and disclosure of your personal information when you visit our website or otherwise interact with ExodusPoint. For the purposes of European data protection laws, ExodusPoint is the data controller of your personal information. Please note that when using the website, this Privacy Policy should be read in conjunction with our Terms of Use and is incorporated into our Terms of Use.

Collection of Personal Information. When you visit the website, receive services from us or otherwise interact with ExodusPoint, we may collect and process the following data about you:

Information that you give to us – you may give us personal information including your name, company name, contact details including address(es), telephone number(s) and email address. If you are an investor, we may in addition to this, also collect your passport information, social security number and assets, account balances and transaction history and investment experience and wire transfer instructions. You are not under any obligation to provide any of this information. However, if you withhold requested information, we may not be able to provide certain services to you.

Information that we collect about you – we may automatically collect basic technical information from all visitors to the website through our automatic data collection tools, which may include cookies and other commonly used technologies (see section on Cookies below). These tools collect certain standard information that your browser sends to the website such as your browser type and language, access times, and the address of the site from which you came to the website. They may also collect your Internet Protocol ("IP") address, or click stream data within our website (i.e. the actions taken in connection with the website). This information helps us improve the functionality of the website.

Information that we receive from other sources – we may collect personal information from different sources including social media, analytics providers, search information providers, including search engines, and other public sources.

Information may also be collected about you indirectly from monitoring or other means (e.g. recording of telephone calls and monitoring e-mails with us). In these circumstances, the information is not accessed on a continuous or routine basis, but it may be used only for legal, compliance or security purposes.

Use of your Personal Information. We may use the personal information you give us to carry out the following purposes:

| Purpose  | Lawful Basis  |

| For fraud prevention and detection and to comply with applicable laws, regulations or codes of practice including complying with any obligations that derive from anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism legislation | To comply with our legal obligations  |

You have a right to object to processing of your personal information where that processing is carried out for our legitimate interest.

Sharing your Personal Information. We may use selected third parties to provide us with services or technical support for the website who may have access to your personal information. If you are an investor, we may also disclose certain personal information to our affiliates and service providers, such as fund administrators (including, but not limited to, Northern Trust Global Fund Services Cayman Limited and its affiliates), custodians, broker-dealers, accountants and lawyers, as necessary to effect and administer the fund and enforce our rights and obligations. All service providers are permitted to use data only for the purpose of performing services on our behalf. Similarly, we may share your personal information as required by law to protect our rights and property, or the rights, property or safety of others, including to advisers, law enforcement agencies, judicial and regulatory authorities.

We may also share your personal information with our affiliates for their marketing purposes. If you do not want us to share information with our affiliates for their marketing purposes, please contact us using the information below.

We may transfer or share a copy of personal information about you in the event that we or one of our assets, affiliates, or subsidiaries goes through a business transition, such as a merger, being acquired by another company, being reorganized or liquidated, or by selling a portion of our or their assets. Nothing in this Privacy Policy is intended to interfere with our ability to transfer all or part of our or one of our assets', affiliates', or subsidiaries' business and/or assets to an affiliate or independent third party at any time, for any purpose, without any limitation whatsoever. We specifically reserve the right to transfer or share a copy of personally identifiable information collected from our or their websites to the buyer of that portion of our or their business relating to that information during any diligence process.

California Privacy Rights. Under California Civil Code sections 1798.83-1798.84, California residents are entitled to ask us for a notice describing what categories of personal customer information we share with third parties or corporate affiliates for those third parties or corporate affiliates' direct marketing purposes. That notice will identify the categories of information shared and will include a list of the third parties and affiliates with which it was shared, along with their names and addresses. If you are a California resident and would like a copy of this notice, please submit a written request to the street address below. Please allow 30 days for a response.

International Transfer. When you are based in Europe, personal information collected from you, including via the website will be transferred to certain recipients located outside Europe, (including the United States where the website is hosted) which do not provide a similar or adequate level of protection to that provided by countries in Europe. You hereby consent to the transfer of your personal information to recipients as described in this Privacy Policy which are located outside of Europe. You may withdraw your consent at any time. The withdrawal of consent shall not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal, and it will not preclude the future processing of personal information if within our legitimate interest.

Security. ExodusPoint maintains physical, electronic and procedural safeguards reasonably designed to protect the information against loss, misuse, damage or modification and unauthorized access or disclosure. ExodusPoint can make no guarantee that these procedures will prevent all unauthorized access, and as a result, personal information submitted through or contained on the website may be vulnerable to unauthorized disclosure to unknown third parties.

Data Quality, Storage, and Access. While we make every effort to ensure that all information we hold about you is accurate, complete and up to date, you can help us in this regard by promptly notifying us if there are any changes to your personal information.

Retention. ExodusPoint may retain your personal information as necessary for the provision of the services, internal analytical purposes, or to comply with its legal obligations, resolve disputes and enforce agreements. The criteria used to determine the retention periods include: (i) how long the personal data is needed to provide the services and operate the business; (ii) the type of personal data collected; and (iii) whether we are subject to a legal, contractual or similar obligation to retain the data (e.g., mandatory data retention laws, government orders to preserve data relevant to an investigation, or data that must be retained for the purposes of litigation or disputes).

Children's Privacy. We do not collect or maintain information from those we actually know are under 18, and no part of our website is targeted to attract anyone under 18.

Rights of Individuals in the EEA. If you are located in the European Economic Area, you may have certain data privacy rights which may be subject to limitations and/or restrictions. These rights include the right to: (i) request access to and rectification and erasure of your personal information; (ii) obtain restriction of processing or to object to processing of your personal information; and (iii) ask for a copy of your personal information to be provided to you, or a third party in a digital format. You also have the right to lodge a complaint about the processing of your personal information with your local data protection authority.

Individuals in Andorra, Argentina, Australia, Canada, Faroe Islands, Guernsey, Hong Kong, Israel, Isle of Man, Japan, Jersey, Mexico, New Zealand, Singapore, South Korea, Switzerland, Uruguay, and certain other jurisdictions may also exercise these or similar rights.

Cookies. The website may use "cookies," which may automatically collect certain information and data. "Cookies" are small pieces of data sent to your computer browser from our web server and stored on your computer's hard drive. The data identifies you as a unique user and facilitates your ongoing access to and use of the website. Cookies may also help us diagnose problems with our server and the website. If you do not want us to use cookies when you use the Website, you can adjust your internet browser settings not to accept cookies. Your web browser's help function should tell you how to do this. Alternatively, to find out more about cookies, including how to see what cookies have been set and how to manage and delete them, visit the website: <http://www.allaboutcookies.org>. The website will also explain how you can delete cookies which are already stored on your device.

Revisions to this Privacy Policy. We may revise or supplement this Privacy Policy from time to time. If we make any substantial changes in the way we use or share your personal information, we will notify you by posting a notice on our website, prior to the change becoming effective. We encourage you to refer to this Policy on an ongoing basis so you understand our current privacy practices.

Contact Us. If you have any questions or comments about our Privacy Policy, or if you are located in Europe and wish to exercise your rights as described above, please feel free to contact us at info@exoduspoint.com.
